Planning Today for a Winning Tomorrow

July 25 - 27, 2018

Penn Stater Conference Center and Hotel
215 Innovation Boulevard
State College, PA 16803

The sponsors of the conference are the Pennsylvania Department of Education, Bureau of Special Education, and the PA Training and Technical Assistance Network, in collaboration with members of the PA Community on Transition including: PA Youth Leadership Network, Pennsylvania’s Initiative on Assistive Technology (PIAT), Transition State Leadership Team including members from: Higher Education (The George Washington University, The Pennsylvania State University, and Temple University); PA Department of Education (Bureau of Special Education and Bureau of Career and Technical Education); PA Department of Health (Bureau of Family Health and Bureau of Community Health Systems); PA Department of Human Services (Office of Developmental Programs, Office of Mental Health & Substance Abuse Services, Office of Children, Youth & Families, and Bureau of Juvenile Justice Services); PA Department of Labor & Industry (Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Bureau of Workforce Development Partnership, and Pennsylvania State Workforce Investment Board); Parent Advocacy Organizations (PA Education & Advocacy Leadership Center (PEAL), Hispanos Unidos para Ninos Excepcionales (HUNE), The Arc of Philadelphia, and The United Way of Allegheny County)
Description
The vision of the PA Community on Transition is that all Pennsylvania youth and young adults with disabilities will successfully transition to the role of productive, participating adult citizens. Youth will be empowered to recognize their talents, strengths, and voice and have equal access to resources that promote full participation to the communities of their choice.

The primary purpose of the conference is to expand the capacity of schools, agencies, and communities, in partnership with youth, young adults and families, in promoting the successful transition of youth/young adults with disabilities to post-school outcomes of employment, post-secondary education and training, community participation and healthy lifestyles. Participants will have the opportunity to learn about effective practices to assist youth/young adults with disabilities to explore possibilities, to take advantage of their opportunities, and to actively advocate for their future.

Focus of Conference
The primary focal points of this year’s conference are:

- Promoting success of all youth and young adults by addressing the transition needs of those who are at-risk and struggling
- Empowering families and caregivers with transition knowledge and resources
- Engaging youth and young adults in social interactions and in understanding their potential for post school success
- Building leadership skills of all transition stakeholders to promote successful outcomes of youth and young adults
- Using transition and career assessment, universal design, accommodations, and supports to build the foundation for self-determination and self-advocacy
- Linking transition, behavioral health, and healthy lifestyles to promote success in adult life by empowerment through self-determination and self-advocacy
- Showcasing evidence-based and effective practices with youth outcome data
- Building and supporting community partnerships and local transition coordinating councils

Conference Features

Accommodations, Supports and Resources Expo, Reception & Raffle
This interactive, hands-on expo is designed for participants to learn about specific assistive technology, resources, supports, and services available to youth. Participants will gather valuable information from transition partners, conference presenters, and community resources. As part of the Expo, on Thursday afternoon, there will be a raffle of items provided by members of our PA Secondary Transition Community of Practice and our vendors. You must be present at the reception to win!

Youth & Family Team Sessions
Throughout the years, youth/young adults, and families have benefitted from the sessions held at the transition conference. Based upon feedback, the planning team has developed a team approach where youth and family members (or a supporting adult) attend sessions together. These sessions include youth development activities, to help youth grow and plan for adult life, with the support of their family (or supporting adult). These sessions, organized by the PA Youth Leadership Network (PYLN), include young adults with and without disabilities as well as other transition stakeholders. For specific “Youth and Family Team Sessions” refer to page 5-6 in the conference brochure. PYLN specific sessions include: Sessions A9, B11, C9, F9, G9, and H10.

Planning Today for a Winning Tomorrow:
Purposeful Planning
Wednesday, July 25, 2018 - (8:30 a.m. – 5:30 p.m.)

Opening Keynote Presentation (8:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.)

KN1. From Disability to Possibility: The Power of an Inclusive Life
An effective transition and inclusive life starts in school!
Focusing on the best practices of inclusive education, collaboration and creating an innovative support plan, essential tools and processes are highlighted for the purpose of effective person-centered learning and service delivery. Using a person's dreams, visions, and goals will be emphasized to create effective planning, implementation, and achievement of successful educational and life outcomes. Insights from school to post-school practices will be presented. Real-life learner examples are illustrated and participants are guided into creating a plan for an individual they represent for authentic and meaningful applications that can be utilized immediately.

Patrick Schwarz, Ph.D., Louis University & Creative Culture Consulting LLC

Break - (10:00 a.m. – 10:15 a.m.)

Breakout Session 1 - (10:15 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.)

A1. Caring For Your Loved One with Special Needs - What Every Caregiver Needs to Know
Knowledge Building Disability Specific
An overview of financial and estate planning for families that have dependents with special needs will be shared. Critical areas of concern such as navigating and maximizing government benefits and considerations for financial and estate planning to ensure that quality of life and lifetime care are maintained will also be addressed.

Pat Bergmaier, 1847Financial

A2. Eliminating the Barriers to Employment and Community Involvement
Models of Success
The Chester County Intermediate Unit will highlight programs and resources offered for transition age students. These options are a collaborative effort of community partners, post-secondary education institutions, Career and Technical Education programs, OVR, as well as related services supports through job training, mental health support, and travel training instruction. Supports and training provided to community partners will be previewed.

Patti Ciufetelli, Chester County Intermediate Unit 24
Michelle MacLuckie, Chester County Intermediate Unit 24
Laurie Masino, Chester County Intermediate Unit 24
Sharon Shoemaker, Chester County Intermediate Unit 24
Lisa Tzanakis, Chester County Intermediate Unit 24
A3. Engaging Students with Disabilities with Brain-Based Learning Activities

Effective Educational Practices
Active learning supports success at school and work. Participants will design engaging learning activities using six brain-based learning principles. Enhance your teacher/trainer role by incorporating active learning into whatever you do. Sara Gales is a Certified Trainer for Sharon Bowman’s “Training from the BACK of the Room!”

Sara Gales, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

A4. PETS Pittsburgh Panel: Collaborative Pathways to Post Secondary Success

Collaborative Partnerships
A panel presentation will discuss strategies to plan Pre-Employment Transition Service (PETS) events like those developed by OVR’s Pittsburgh Office for high school students with disabilities aged 14-21 in Allegheny County. Pittsburgh OVR has designed these events to be engaging, hands-on, and interactive to promote career exploration, post-secondary education, and independent living skills.

Brett Glavey, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

Ashley Mullen, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

Cindy Rosentreter, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

Pre-Employment Transition Skills
“Vision is merely a dream without action.” – Joel Barker. Vision boards are any sort of board or paper where individuals display images that represent whatever they want to be, to do, or to have in their lives. These images can be people, words, phrases, things, or anything individuals feel will create their ideal life and identification of support systems that already exist or may be needed. Vision boards show a link between behavioral health, healthy lifestyles, and transition to promote a successful adult life through self-awareness, self-development, and self-advocacy.

Tamani Love-Molett, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

A6. Beyond Academic Knowledge and Skills

Post-Secondary Education & Training
Youth with disabilities need a combination of academic and personal competencies to succeed in postsecondary education and careers but may lack opportunities to develop their personal skills and knowledge. This session offers opportunities to learn what personal competencies contribute to postsecondary and career success and strategies to facilitate competency development.

Jessica Queener, Institute for Educational Leadership

A7. Disability Voting Issues - Access, Assistance and Accommodations

Independent Living & Community Participation
Voting is a key means by which citizens, including those with disabilities, can impact policy at the local, state, and federal levels. Learn what it means for a polling place to be fully accessible. What should a person do if s/he is unable to vote in his/her polling place because it is inaccessible?

Gabe Labella, Disability Rights Pennsylvania

A8. Just Give Him the Whale!

Healthy Lifestyles
Considering the fascinations, passions, and interest areas of learners, provides powerful new ways of viewing these areas as positive support tools that motivate individuals, improve learning, and assist with meeting person-centered goals. Using authentic student examples, participants will discover how to make the most of fascinations, passions, and interest areas to help learners they support. Areas included will be transition, making life worth living, developing social connections, minimizing anxiety, boosting literacy learning and academic skills, expanding communication skills and much more.

Patrick Schwarz, Ph.D., National Louis University & Creative Culture Consulting LLC

A9. Healthy Relationships: The Youth Perspective

Youth Family Partnership Collaborative Session
The Pennsylvania Youth Leadership Network (PYLN) will utilize their partners to discuss different types of healthy relationships with attendees. Parents and youth will receive tips, engage in discussions about experiences with the Governing Board, and have the opportunity to ask questions.

Pennsylvania Youth Leadership Network

A10. Navigating the Physical and Behavioral Health Systems

Knowledge Building: Agency Information
This panel presentation will provide an overview of the resources available in PA to help coordinate and to navigate the physical and behavioral health systems. Scenarios will be utilized to illustrate the role that each resource can play in supporting youth and families.

Kelly King, The PEAL Center

Lunch - (11:45 a.m. – 12:45 p.m.)
Fab Lab - (12:45 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.)

Breakout Session 2 - (12:45 p.m. – 2:15 p.m.)

B1. Evolution of Understanding Autism: Preparation for Adulthood

Knowledge Building Disability Specific Information

As systems evolve and we learn more about supporting people with autism, our understanding of best practices and approaches to support evolve, as well. Experiences in administering two adult autism programs in Pennsylvania will be shared in an effort to shape what we know about autism and how to best support students with autism in preparation for adulthood. Data and research will also be presented, where applicable, to support concepts and experiences.

_Stacy Nonnemacher, Office of Developmental Programs/Bureau of Autism Services_

B2. Promoting Self-Determination for a Successful Future

Promoting Youth Development & Youth Leadership

A great deal of research shows the importance of self-determination for students beginning in elementary school through college and life in general. When applied throughout a child’s education, the application of this necessary life skill, yields high-quality learning experiences, enhances knowledge, and improves necessary post-school outcomes as well as personal growth and adjustment needed for life.

_Erin Grimm, Allegheny Intermediate Unit_

_Crystal Vogtsberger, Allegheny Intermediate Unit_

B3. SSA Benefits Counseling: What It Means to Your Student’s Future Employment

Benefits counseling is an in-depth discussion with Social Security Administration disability beneficiaries to assist them in understanding their benefits and the effect that earned income may have upon those benefits. Who is eligible under OVR’s program, who should be obtaining this service, and how it can impact benefit status will be explained.

_Patricia Vasco, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation_

B4. Developing a Winning Mindset: Exploring Techniques of Self-Expression

Models of Success

Psychological Services Associates from the Hiram G. Andrews Center will present a variety of strategies related to the autism spectrum compiled through work with young adults. The presentation will emphasize approaches which have been found to be most beneficial in empowering young adults with skills for a winning future.

_Kelly Dumm, Hiram G. Andrews Center_

_Cheryllann Falsone, Hiram G. Andrews Center_

_Kimberly Seigh, Hiram G. Andrews Center_

B5. HGAC’s Year-Round Pre-Employment Transition Opportunities

Pre-Employment Transition Skills

This session will spotlight the variety of unique pre-employment transition opportunities available to high school students at the Hiram G. Andrews Center (HGAC). Students can learn how to take advantage of these opportunities as they transition to post-secondary endeavors and professionals can gain insight regarding replication of such programming.

_Stacie Andrews, Hiram G. Andrews Center_

_Kate Kohne, University of Pittsburgh_

B6. Transition Councils: Cross-Systems Strategies in a Time of Change

Collaborative Partnerships

How can local Transition Coordinating Councils facilitate effective understanding and communication among stakeholders from diverse systems to collaborate more effectively as regulations and resources change? A panel of Berks County Transition Coordinating Council members will provide an overview of strategies for facilitating collaborative cross-systems planning. In addition, participants will engage a facilitated discussion related to local collaboration for school-to-employment transition. This experience will assist participants to consider similar facilitated cross-systems dialogue through their local Transition Coordinating Council.

_Nicki Habecker, Parent_

Post-Secondary Education & Training
Learn about college life firsthand. Students attending colleges and universities in Pennsylvania enrolled in inclusive postsecondary initiatives affiliated with the Transition and Postsecondary Programs for Students with Intellectual Disability Grant will share typical college experiences with session participants.

Ann Marie Licata, Millersville University

G4. Making Connections: Mock Interviews for Youth Employment

Are you graduating soon? A great way to learn about the world of work and make a little extra cash is to get a part-time job. This youth focused session will provide students with a mock interview to build confidence and provide tools to find, obtain, and maintain successful employment.

Kim Robinson, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Pennsylvania Youth Leadership Network

In response to research and advocacy from the field, the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE) is providing guidance to educators on how to address career ready skills in the context of teaching and learning for all students. The Pennsylvania Career Ready Skills (PA CRS) are aligned with, but do not duplicate, Pennsylvania’s Career Education and Work (CEW) Standards and are consistent with the intent of the Future Ready PA Index. The PA CRS situate learning progressions that support the development of student competence in the following three domains: self-awareness and self-management, establishing and maintaining relationships, and social problem solving. This session will situate the need for PA CRS, define the PA CRS, and feature the utility of the PA CRS Toolkit.

Pam Emery, Office of Safe Schools, PDE
James Palmiero, PaTTAN Pittsburgh

G6. Enhancing Emotional Support Programs through Effective Educational Practices

Secondary Transition
The purpose of this session is to enhance the knowledge and resources available to parents, youth, and educators regarding the impact of the post-secondary transition continuum for students with emotional disabilities. Additionally, participants will gain a better understanding of the programs, services, and resources offered to students with emotional support needs.

Erin Grimm, Allegheny Intermediate Unit

Shannon Austin, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Kim Robinson, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

H6. Work-Based Learning Experiences: Keys to Effective Secondary Transition Planning
Collaborative Partnerships
The School District of Philadelphia (SDP) strives to encourage collaborative strategies that will benefit transition age youth by increasing students’ employment outcomes. SDP collaborates with local service providers to render Pre-Employment Transition Services (P.E.T.S.) for students with disabilities ages 14-21. Secondary transition initiatives as well as programs and activities are also designed to ensure successful transition planning.

LaQuenta Montanez, School District of Philadelphia

H7. Positive Personal Vocational Profile Workshop
Assessment
This session focuses on how to make assessment a positive experience, with positive results! The approach focuses on ownership of the assessment process to promote self-determination. An assessment toolkit will be shared to promote positive use of effective transition and assessment in career planning. Participants will learn how to develop a strengths-based, person-centered Positive Personal Vocational Profile with transitioning youth.

Joan Kester, George Washington University

H8. PA Dept. of Education Employment Grant Showcase
Employment
During the 2017-18 school year, six competitive employment grants were awarded by the Pennsylvania Department of Education, Bureau of Special Education to educational entities across the Commonwealth. The purpose of these grants was to plan, to develop, and to implement transition goals that would assist at-risk students in completing school and community-based assessment(s) and instruction leading to competitive integrated employment. This presentation will showcase the grantees’ projects by providing participants with an overview of program goals and student data related to assessment(s), instructional techniques and strategies, resources, and professional development that were proven effective.

Accommodations & Assistive Technology
Join us for another "tech smackdown" session. This one will focus on tech tools and apps that are helpful in daily life - at home, at work, or in the community. In this session for youth, families, and professionals, we will all discover or share cool tools and ways to use tech tools and apps. Come prepared to talk briefly about your favorite AT. A list of the featured resources will be compiled during this fast-paced, interactive session.

H10. Youth Advocacy and Community Engagement

Youth Family Partnership Collaborative Session
The PYLN Governing Board and their affiliates will review advocacy and community engagement. Attendees will hear examples and collectively participate in an activity that can impact communities across the state.

Pennsylvania Youth Leadership Network

Planning Today for a Winning Tomorrow: Role of Youth and Family in Planning
Friday, July 27, 2018 – (8:30 a.m. – 1:00 pm)

Fab Lab - (8:30 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.)

Keynote Presentation - (8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m.)

KN2. Person-Centered Approaches to Teaching Youth Self-Determination

Independent Living & Community Participation
Person-centered approaches are being used to teach youth self-determination, which involves self-awareness, assertiveness, creativity, pride, problem solving, and self-advocacy skills. Students are taught methods to take charge of their own lives, to actively participate in IEP meetings, to set goals, to evaluate options, to make choices, and to achieve their goals. By utilizing person-centered approaches, families, educators and professionals actively participate in partnership with students, increasing the likelihood of students staying in school, graduating and believing in the possibility of employment and rich, meaningful lives.

Because self-determination skills are most effectively learned and developed by practicing them, by utilizing person-centered approaches students with disabilities are given ample opportunity to use their self-advocacy, decision-making, and socialization skills well before they leave secondary school to prepare themselves for post-secondary education, working and living as independently as possible in their community.

Parents are usually the driving force for change in a student’s life. Planning in a way that is centered around the youth along with the support and participation of family, educators, practitioners, secondary and post-secondary educators, and potential employers will help students be at the center of planning their own lives.

The value of person-centered planning has meant an improvement in communication with students. The structured planning methodology supports learning about the individual requirements of each student by celebrating their gifts, and by helping students learn how they can be actively involved in their outcomes for a good life.

Lisa Meyer, Independent Consultant

Break - (9:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.)
Breakout Session 9 - (9:45 a.m. - 11:15 a.m.)

J1. If Not Now, When is it Time to Think About “A Home of My Own”?

Independent Living & Community Participation

ACHIEVA’s “A Home of My Own” is an innovative way for people with disabilities to move out of their family home and into homes of their own. Key elements of “A Home of My Own” will be discussed including: true person-centered thinking and practice, the importance of support brokerage, people choosing where and with whom they wish to live, interviewing and choosing Life Coaches, and customized, individualized supports.

Meghan Stephens, Susan Schonfeld, of success

J2. Improving Outcomes for Transition Age Students with Collaboration: Implementation of Venture Bound Collaborative Partnerships

Venture Bound is aimed at helping students with cognitive challenges find employment after graduating by assisting individual students in developing new skills while maintaining their current functional abilities. Venture Bound is a collaboration between Great Lakes Collaborative for Autism, Bittersweet, Inc., Bowling Green State University, and The University of Toledo. An overview of the program at Perrysburg High School will be shared.

Kelly Elton, Great Lakes Collaborative for Autism\nBritanny Joseph, Bowling Green State University\nCatina Harding, Great Lakes Collaborative for Autism\nBeth Ann Hatkevich, The University of Toledo

J3. How to Use the Maker Movement Model to Create Resources in Your Community!

Models of Success

The timeless saying goes “if you want something done right, you have to do it yourself!” Pennsylvania Youth Initiative began as a grass roots group of parents and professionals who were looking for ways to fill gaps in services and to give youth with disabilities and parents a voice. It serves as an example of how the Maker Movement and start up movement can be applied to the human service field and is now a rising nonprofit.

Pancho Timmons, Pennsylvania Youth Initiative

J4. Urban Youth – Employment Services for Culturally and Racially Diverse Students

Employment

Students from culturally diverse backgrounds in urban areas face unique barriers to employment. Community Integrated Services (CIS) has been awarded specialized grants through OVR and the Department of Education to serve youth in the underserved School District of Philadelphia. The challenges, strategies, and outcomes of successful projects will be discussed.

Susan Schonfeld, Community Integrated Services\nMeghan Stephens, Community Integrated Services

J5. Work Readiness: Skills Needed for Vocational Success

Employment

The Institute for Collegiate and Career Studies developed a program to help individuals with disabilities who enter the job market successfully obtain entry-level jobs. Upon entry, individuals can increasingly attain skilled occupational certifications for satisfying careers that pay well enough to support a family and that promote opportunities for future growth and development.

John Tomasetti, Institute for Collegiate and Career Studies

J6. A Transition Plan is Not Just a Form

Models of Success

The Transition portion of the IEP can be a powerful tool for building an IEP that presumes competence and leads to positive outcomes. However, the family and youth must have a vision and ambitious goals and understand the possibilities in order to maximize the power. Learn how person-centered planning can form the foundation for strong IEPs that support youth to learn and to achieve in ways that lead toward their dreams.

Lorie Brew, The PEAL Center\nJeanine Schultz, The PEAL Center

J7. Fostering Independence: What 21st Century Adults Need to be Successful

Independent Living & Community Participation

Learn the essential skills necessary to help students with learning difficulties become more independent, self-sufficient, and productive members of society.

Jennifer Scully, Institute for Collegiate and Career Studies

J8. Going to College? Tips for Teachers to Support Students with Intellectual Disability

Post-Secondary Education & Training

Opportunities for students with intellectual disability (ID) to go to college are increasingly available. This session provides an overview of inclusive postsecondary education options. Practical tips for teachers to support students with ID and their families in learning about postsecondary education programs and preparing for college will be shared.

Clare Papay, Think College, Institute for Community Inclusion, UMass Boston

Break - (11:15 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.)
Breakout Session 10 - (11:30 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.)

K1. Using SDLMI to Improve Goal Attainment in Students with ASD

Effective Educational Practices
The Self-Determined Learning Model of Instruction (SDLMI) is an evidence-based strategy that can be used to improve transition outcomes and self-determination for students with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and other disabilities. This step by step approach can be adapted and integrated into school, community, employment, activities, and goals.

LeeAnn Wagner Cica, STRIVE- Autism Transition Consulting and Coaching

K2. From Paper to Progress: Making Employment First a Reality

Employment
Pennsylvania is an Employment First state. But what does that really mean and how can we ensure the primary goal of all individuals is competitive, integrated employment? This discussion will explore promising practices and identify specific barriers which could change the employment success of people with disabilities.

Josie Badger, #IWantToWork
Mary Hartley, United Way of Southwestern PA
Kathleen Locmelis, Pittsburgh Public Schools

K3. Vocational Rehabilitation Transition Partners: The Juvenile Justice and Foster Care Systems

Collaborative Partnerships
The importance of outreach to youth and young adults with disabilities in the Juvenile Justice and Foster Care systems will be examined. Many of these individuals urgently need vocational rehabilitation services to achieve a positive employment outcome. Ideas on how partners can collaborate to create solid transition plans for students and youth will be shared.

Randall Loss, Vocational Rehabilitation Youth Technical Assistance Center VR Y-TAC

K4. OVR 2017-18: Pre-Employment Transition Services in Review

Pre-Employment Transition Skills
Learn about Pre-Employment Transition Service (PETS) offered by the Pennsylvania Office of Vocational Rehabilitation. Accomplishments of the 2017-18 school year and an update on changes for the upcoming school year will be highlighted.

Beth Ann Fanning, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Kim Robinson, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation
Kaitlin Salvati, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

K5. Interdisciplinary Transition Team Initiative (ITTI) Collaborative Partnerships

What is the ITTI? The Interdisciplinary Transition Team Initiative (ITTI) is a transition planning initiative that incorporates evidence-based practices for young adults who have combined hearing and vision loss, their families, and educational team members. Participation will refine the transition process for an individual student while building the local team's capacity to expand transition planning for other students.

Michelle Andros, PaTTAN Pittsburgh
Molly Black, PaTTAN East

K6. Collaborations Toward Access for Inclusive Higher Education

Post-Secondary Education & Training
Journey to a local community college’s efforts to cultivate an inclusive higher education experience for students with disabilities. Hear directly from students regarding this life-altering experience; from germination to harvesting SEED (Success, Engagement, Education, Determination).

Michelle Mitchell, Lehigh Carbon Community College

K7. OVR: An Opportunity for Success!

Knowledge Building: Agency Information
This session will help students, parents, educators, and providers understand the OVR process from pre-application to case closure. An overview of OVR services, as mandated by the Title IV of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunities Act, will be shared.

Lynn Heitz, Bureau of Blind and Visual Services
Gail Steck, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation

K8. Work Early, Work Often

Employment
Family members play a vital, yet unrecognized role in helping students with disabilities explore careers, build social skills, and be successful in employment. Promising strategies that families of youth with disabilities can use to help their youth prepare and keep a job will be identified.

Jessica Queener, Institute for Educational Leadership

K9. Transportation: You Don’t Have Access If You Can’t Get There

Independent Living & Community Participation
For youth and young adults who do not drive, a lack of transportation can be a tremendous barrier to having quality of life and independence. Depending upon the community, a youth might need to learn to walk safely, take public transportation, arrange for adaptive transportation, or use the Uber or Lyft app. These skills should be included in the IEP but sometimes are not addressed.
